PREPARING FOR
RECALL BALLOT
NOT EASY TASKMuch Work Entailed For State and County Officials Within Short Time

ORATORY FLOOD NEARING

League is First to Announce That Outside Speakers Will Help in Campaign

The big task of preparing for the recall election is under way today. The preparation of ballots and compliance with the law regarding elections in other manner involves a great amount of detail for state and county officials.

The official ballot, which will contain the names of at least six candidates and the constitutional amendments and initiated laws, is now being prepared in the secretary of state's office. The printing of ballots and a construction of the law for the possibility of some difficulties.

The secretary of state has held that the law specifically provides that any candidate may get his name on the ballot by the filing of petitions bearing 300 names, between now and 30 days from the date of the election. The law requires him to certify to the county auditor the names of candidates 30 days from the date of the election. The supreme court has held in a case that if a candidate mailed his notice of intention to become a candidate on the day on which the time expires by registered mail with the proper number of petitioners his name is entitled to go on the ballot, although the letter reaches the filing office within 30 days preceding the election. There is then the possibility of a candidate's name being entitled to go on the ballot after the list has been officially certified to the county officers.

Unusual Oratorical Flood
There is every prospect that an unusual flood of oratory will be loosed on the state in the recall campaign, and that the comparatively short campaign will finish with feverish action by both the independent and Nonpartisan sides.

The I. V. A. plan of organization contemplated the direction of the campaign by the Joint Campaign Committee with county organizations working under their direction, and probably district managers working out of the Fargo headquarters. The Nonpartisan plan is substantially the same.

Chairman Liederbach of the league organization is authority for the statement that the league has 150 volunteer speakers on its lists, to mount the stumps in cities, towns and country districts. Neighborhood speaking and school house meetings may supplant much of the personal solicitation of past campaigns, although both organizations expect to reach every voter by personal solicitation if possible.

Plead Finance Lack
Both campaign organizations have pleaded lack of finances. The league state committee claims that it cannot and does not desire to put a paid county manager in the field as has been the practice in the past organization. The two campaign organizations will be much the same.

The first announcement that there would be speakers from outside the state in the recall campaign comes from the league side. John Skelton Williams, former comptroller of the treasurer, is the headliner of the league speaking aggregation. Former Governor John Lind of Minnesota, also is said to be on the list and the league expects to have speakers from South Dakota, Montana and Minnesota. It is denied by Liederbach that paid organizers of the National Nonpartisan league will come into the state.

Whether or not there will be speakers from outside the state on the independent list of orators is not known at present. It is expected that an invitation will be issued to Governor J. A. O. Preus of Minnesota to speak in the state.

Renew Pamphlet Request
Secretary of State Hall renewed his request of the state emergency commission, composed of Governor Frazier, Commissioner Hagan and himself for $10,000 for the printing of a publicity pamphlet, which he says, is mandatory under the constitution.

The secretary of state also points out that provisions must be made eventually for the publication of a publicity pamphlet for the primary election to be held in June, 1922, and also for the publication of the pamphlet prior to the general election to be held in November, 1922. If $10,000 is required for the printing of each of the three pamphlets and is granted from the state emergency fund, it would take $30,000 of the $50,000 appropriated by the legislature in that fund.

STARVATION TIGHTENS ITS GRIP
UPON RUSSIAN VALLEY OF VOLGAWholesale Starvation by January is Predicted Unless Outside Help on a Large Scale Arrives—200 Deaths From Starvation in Fortnight

Tsartitsyn, Russia, Sept. 17.—(By the Courier to Moscow, by the Associated Press)—Hunger is tightening its grip over the lower valley of the Volga.

Officials of the Near East Relief society reached this city after making a survey of 10 provinces in Russia. Wasted sun-scorched soil and Russia said conditions indicated wholesale starvation by January if outside help on a large scale does not arrive immediately.

The situation at Samara was found to be grave, but further south it became worse. There starvation is already at the door.

The relief workers suggest the purchase of grain in Bulgaria and Constantinople and vigorous steps to get it to the famine districts before the Russian winters comes and hinds fast the Don and Volga rivers.

There are in normal times 100,000 workmen employed in the province of Saratov, but only 4,000 are now engaged in the factories. During the past three months there have been 600 cases of cholera in this city and 10 per cent of them have been fatal. During the same period 1,250 cases of this dread disease have been reported from Saratov province. Two hundred deaths from starvation have been reported officially in the past fortnight.

AMERICAN DOCTORS ON WAY
London, Sept. 17.—Twenty American relief administration workers, doctors, transportation experts and warehouse keepers who arrived in London from the United States last Saturday on the board the liner Olympic have left for Riga. From that city they will go to Moscow where definite assignment will be given them.

Here Monday to Plan For Quotas

A district meeting to boost attendance of representatives of five counties at the National Dairy Show to be held at the Minnesota State Fair Grounds October 8 to 15 will be held in Bismarck Monday, it was announced today.

Representatives from Sheridan, Burleigh, Emmons, Kidder and McLean counties are expected to be present at the meeting. John Beck, county leader of Sheridan county; J. N. Thompson, president of the Burleigh county Farm Bureau; J. O. Sater, county agent of Emmons county; A. L. Norling, county agent of McLean county, are in charge of the work of obtaining the quota of 20 delegates from each county to the National Dairy Show. They will be present at the meeting, together with a delegate appointed by the Governor, an editor, a banker, a creamery man and a farm bureau delegate.

The Bismarck Commercial club, taking charge of the meeting at the request of Max Morgan, livestock extension specialist of the state agricultural college, will give a lunch on at the Grand Pacific hotel Monday noon for the visitors.

The speakers will be Prof. J. H. Shepherd, director of experimental farm work of the state agricultural college and several county agents will be speakers.

Max Morgan, estimates the cost of attendance at the National Dairy Show at $50. A rate of one and one-half fare for the round trip has been obtained.

There will be a meeting of representative farmers of the Bismarck territory in Bismarck Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock to discuss the formation of a dairy circuit similar to the New Salem and Elmer circuits.

SHACKLETON ON WAY TO THE POLE

London, Sept. 17.—(By the Associated Press). The Quest, a small ship on which Sir Ernest Shackleton will explore the uncharted section of the South Atlantic, the Pacific and the Antarctic seas left the Thames today on the start of her two-year voyage. Large crowds gathered at the docks to wish Shackleton and his party a successful voyage.

INSPECTION OF
STATE IS MADE

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 17.—Following the recent completion of state inspection of 665 hotels in the state, under the provisions of state law, three inspectors of the state regulatory division are now engaged in a re-inspection of places where improvement were needed, according to an announcement made today by Alvin K. Johnson, chief deputy hotel inspector for North Dakota.

Reports from inspectors in the field indicate that sanitary conditions are good in general in hotels of the state, and that the scores show an improvement over last year, according to Miss Johnson. The decrease of almost 10 points in the state since last year is stated to be due to a decrease in the number of small rooming houses for transient guests. The average score this year of hotels in the 10 largest cities in the state was 90.9, with the highest average score at 97, and the lowest 82.6. Fifty hotels were destroyed by fire and 71 were closed during the year. Last year the average score of all hotels in the state was 86.

Besides the inspection of sanitary conditions in the hotels, provisions for fire prevention and fire escapes and other things are included in the inspection. Due to lack of funds, inspectors are furnished by the food inspection for part-time service at hotel inspectors.

DECIDE SOON
ON FIRE TRUCKThe City Commission Considers Strongly Local Bid

The city commission may act on the purchase of a fire truck for the city on Monday night. Commissioner Larson who has been out of the city on business, is returning and action will be taken as soon as possible, according to members of the commission.

There is a strong probability of the purchase of a truck offered by a local bidder. Some of the members of the commission have investigated closely the proposal made by Chris Dertsch, Jr. of the Bismarck Motor company for the sale of a White truck equipped with fire apparatus. One of these bids was for a combination chemical and hose car with double tank for $7,703.50 and another was for a large apparatus with more equipment for $9,395.00.

The bids offered through the local men were considered the cheapest bids for the kind of fire apparatus the city commission desires to purchase.

SINGERS ASKED
TO JOIN CHORUSMeeting of Community Chorus
Will Be Held Monday Evening

An invitation to all singers in the city to attend a meeting of the Community Chorus Monday evening is extended by Frank Gale, who has been chosen to direct the chorus inaugurated by the Business and Professional Women's clubs. The meeting will be held Monday at 8 p. m. in the club rooms.

Many well known singers of the city have expressed their intention of joining, and Mr. Gale is especially anxious to get the best talent in the city, whether experienced or not in community chorus work.

Many Bismarck club women who attended the federation meeting in Manhattan last May were impressed with the chorus of 70 voices which sang there under the direction of Mr. Gale and are enthusiastic over the possibility of building up a big chorus in Bismarck.

FOUR CARLOADS OF DAIRY CATTLE
COME INTO STATE

Agricultural College, N. D., Sept. 16.—Four carloads of high grade dairy cattle have already been shipped into North Dakota as a result of the campaign which is being staged to get farmers started in the dairy business, according to information received by Max Morgan, dairy specialist of the North Dakota Extension Division.

County Agents E. A. Greenwood of Sargent and R. S. Goodrich of Stanton, were each in the main responsible for awakening the farmers to the necessity of getting dairy stock, and a carload has been obtained and distributed in each of the two counties. E. E. Phelan of Bowman secured a carload for Bowman county, and E. P. Leutz of Taylor a carload for Stark county. All the animals purchased were high grade Holsteins, mostly heifers. Some were secured from the New Salem breeding plant and others from Wisconsin. Committees in Cass and Richland are planning to secure at least a carload each of dairy cattle, and County Agents E. A. Willson and R. C. Dynes are cooperative with the farmers who want to buy this stock.

THOUSANDS PAY

Biers of Fifteen

NAVY HEAD IS PRESENT

Solemn Ritual Accorded Heroes of Navy of All Years is Carried Out

New York, Sept. 17.—America today mourned her 15 men who fell with the ZR-2.

Into the New York Navy Yard in drizzling rain pressed thousands of men and women to gather around the biers of 15 blue-jackets and their officers who met death in the English river Humber when the giant airship took its fatal plunge.

England honored the American dead as well as her own with solemn ceremonies in Westminster Abbey and elsewhere and this afternoon Americans gathered to pay their own tribute to the heroes whose bodies were brought back home yesterday on the British cruiser Duquesne. Journeying here from Washington when the words of parting were uttered was the Secretary of the Navy while British, French and Brazilian sailors whose warships were in port were invited to the ceremony.

President Sends Bouquet
Secretary Denby, accompanied by attaches of the British embassy, arrived early carrying with him 15 bouquets, personal tributes from the president and his cabinet. The British ambassador also sent flowers.

The secretary did not yet deliver a funeral address preferring that the ceremony be confined to the solemn ritual prescribed by navy regulations and accorded American naval heroes ever since men-of-war flying the Stars and Stripes have sailed the seas.

Long before the gates of the yards were thrown open the crowds began to gather.

The ceremony lasted little more than half an hour. It started with the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Then was held the Protestant service. When it closed Mr. Denby himself placed flowers on each casket, his hand trembling. This followed the service in the Roman Catholic church with three blue-jackets holding the casket. As the strains of "Nearer My God to Thee," sung by a male quartet, died away there came outside the building the sharp command, "Ready, Aim, Fire."

Three volleys were fired; a huge sounded taps. The service was over.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF PLANS FOR CITY'S FIRST "DOLLAR DAY" SALES BRINGS
WORD OF UNUSUAL INTEREST IN PLAN

The announcement of plans for holding Bismarck's first "Dollar Day" sales has been received with unusual interest by people in Bismarck territory. It is the first era event to be held in Bismarck and it promises to bring to the city thousands of visitors seeking the unusual bargains to be offered in the novel, cooperative movement of the merchants. The city will be more than sales days. The "Dollar Days" on Sept. 28 and 29 will be more than sales days. They will be "Get Acquainted" days on which the local people will swap stories with their friends from many points outside the city and visitors from outside the city will meet old friends here whom they may not have seen for many a day.

Indeed, this latter feature has proved immensely attractive to visitors to "Dollar Day" sales in other cities where they are annual events and the "Dollar Day" sales have come to be looked upon in the nature of the city's fair, a meeting point for all the people of a large territory. It will be probably the most real event to offer an attraction to thousands of people in this section on one or two days before cold winter blasts sweep down.

GRAND JURY TO SEEK EVIDENCE
ON WITNESSESTo Probe Change in Story of Zey
Prevost Who Attended
Fatty's Party

ALSO SEEKING DOCTOR

San Francisco, Sept. 17.—The county grand jury at its meeting Monday night is to consider evidence that certain witnesses were tampered with in the case of Roscoe E. Arluckie, accused of murder in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress. Harry Kelly, secretary of the jury, announced today.

"The jury also expects to clear up doubtful points in the medical testimony given Miss Rappe," Kelly said. "The testimony of the doctors who attended her may be heard."

The witnesses tampering investigation of the jury is fixed upon failure of Miss Zey Prevost, one of the principal witnesses against Arluckie, to tell to the jury the alleged facts that she detailed to the police and the district attorney. As a result of her failure to testify the jury was compelled to postpone for 24 hours a decision to indict Arluckie, the district attorney said. The manslaughter indictment was returned against him.

Dr. Arthur Boardler, house physician at the St. Francis hotel, where the party took place in which Arluckie was alleged to have fatally injured Miss Rappe, is still being sought by the district attorney and the police. Dr. Boardler attended Miss Rappe in the hotel. His testimony is wanted before the grand jury. He is said to be on a hunting trip.

ARRAIGNMENT CONTINUED
San Francisco, Sept. 17.—Arraignment of Roscoe E. Arluckie in the court of superior judge Harold Louderback on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe was continued today until Monday, Sept. 25.

NEW DIRIGIBLE IS PROPOSED

Washington, Sept. 17.—Procurement of a dirigible of the Zeppelin type from Germany if possible, to replace the loss of the ZR-2, and continuation of the building of ZR-1, now building at Lakehurst, N. J., was recommended today to President Harding and Secretaries Denby and Weeks by the naval advisory committee for aeronautics.

The matter of the registration of professional engineers and land-surveyors in North Dakota is about to receive considerable attention by the engineers and surveyors of the state.

At the last session of the legislature a bill for such registration sponsored by the state chapter of the American Association of Engineers was twice favorably reported out of the house committee to which it was assigned but in the confusion and haste of the closing days of the session, the bill became lost and was indefinitely postponed.

The primary purpose of a registration act is to insure protection to the public against the practices of such persons who are unscrupulous or have only a smattering of engineering knowledge. This is a matter of much importance to the public as the work of engineers and engineering works are commonly of a public or quasi-public nature.

In all but seven states, engineers' license laws are in effect or have been recently proposed. Nearest North Dakota is Minnesota, which enacted a registration act in 1921. Iowa, Colorado, Wyoming and Idaho have license laws and virtually surround Montana, Nebraska and the two Dakotas which to date have none.

PARLEYS AT STANDSTILL

De Valera Sends Telegram Reported to Contain Inquiry Toward Negotiations

London, Sept. 17.—(By the Associated Press). Prime Minister Lloyd George replying today to the communication of Eamon DeValera on Friday says that to receive the Sinn Fein delegates to the proposed conference as representatives of an independent and sovereign state would constitute formal and official recognition of Ireland's severance from the King's domain.

Mr. Lloyd George says that so long as Mr. DeValera insists that Irish delegates should confer as the representatives of an independent and sovereign state a conference is impossible.

In his reply Mr. Lloyd George declared it is idle to say that a conference in which the British representatives had to meet the Sinn Fein Plenipotentiaries as the representatives of an independent and sovereign state would be a conference "without prejudice."

To receive them as such, the premier says, would constitute formal and official recognition of Ireland's severance from the King's domain. It would entitle them to make a treaty but it would equally entitle them to make no treaty and to break off the conference at any point and negotiate a union of Ireland with a foreign power."

DE VALERA SENDS WIRE

London, Sept. 17.—In a telegram sent last evening to Premier Lloyd George at Gairloch, Scotland, Eamon De Valera is considered in high quarters in London to have indicated a desire for a continuation of the negotiations looking to peace in Ireland which were terminated momentarily at least, by Mr. DeValera's communication earlier in the week, insisting on the independence of Ireland and Mr. Lloyd George's cancellation of the conference with delegates of the Sinn Fein which he had proposed for next Tuesday.

STANDARDS OF MORALS CHANGE, SAYS MINISTER

Speaks at Conference in London on Present Day Attitude

WAR TOPPLED IDEALS

London, Sept. 16.—Moral standards of the present day, changing from the simple code of our forefathers, are "excesses growing out of the war," declared the Rev. Dr. Elbert Robb Zaring, editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, Chicago, before the fifth Ecumenical Methodist Conference here today. "It is a passing wave from which," he said, "we are slowly but surely emerging."

Dr. Zaring, in his address, referred to the pleasantry which passed between a Chicago and a New York daily paper many years ago when Chicago was developing the sky-scraping habit. Chicago twitted New York on the fact and the Herald of that city replied there was no city on the Western Hemisphere that needed its sky-scraped worse than Chicago. "Since then scores of cities have gone into the sky-scraping business," continued the speaker. "In the spiritual meaning of that term we must all scrape the sky to get a correct idea of moral standards."

"The true moral standard is unchangeable. It lies like a great snow-capped mountain range across the horizon. It cannot change. This moral mountain range which has set the standard for all time sustains the same relation to the moral world that the Himalayas do to the physical earth."

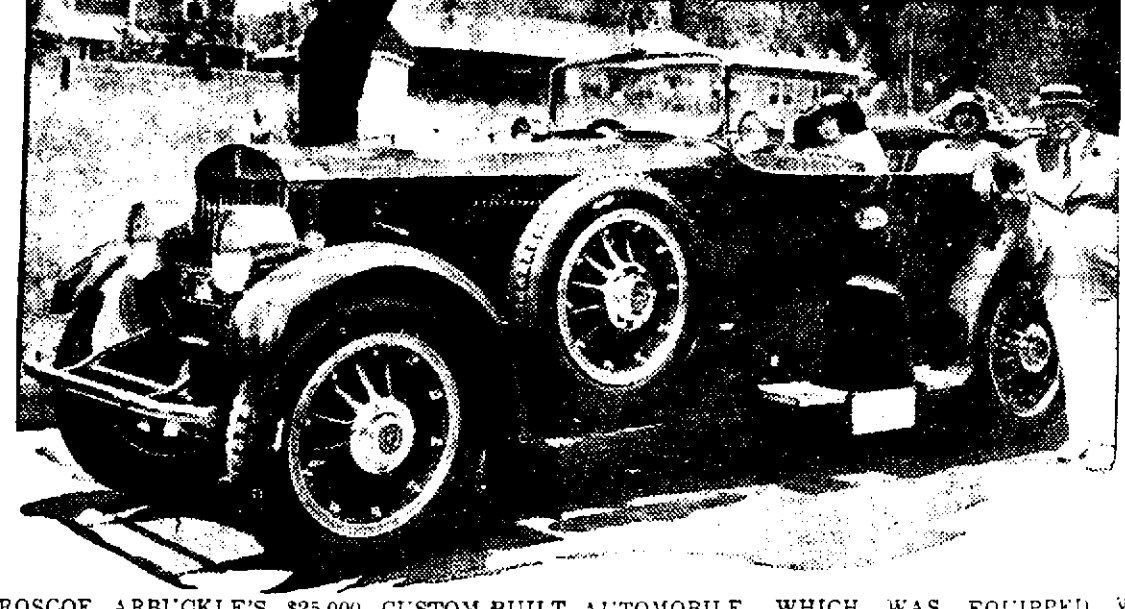

"Attempts have been made to substitute, but to no avail. Every once in awhile you hear of a new set of commandments. Men of different professions have issued Ten Commandments. I have read of Ten Commandments for husbands, for wives, for students and even school children. Revisers have even gone into the field of the New Testament and proposed Beatitudes different from those laid down by our Lord. All these attempts are futile and insignificant compared to the mountain range formed by the first Ten Commandments let down out of heaven through the medium of Moses. They cannot be improved upon."

"Our conception of moral standards is changing. We are today in the trough of a wave. The war upset everything, toppled our moral as well as our intellectual and physical standards. We have not recommenced to keep house. Thus there are certain retrogressions that are greatly deplored and which some fancy are a permanent lowering of the moral standards. These are but excesses growing out of the war. Such a horrible program as was projected upon the world could not but leave in its trail a sordid conception of morals. Thus in the matter of family ties, of physical habits, of our amusements, we find people indulging as they have not done for many years past."

"This is but a passing wave. Even now we are emerging therefrom. Our conception of the moral standard is lifting. One of the most hopeful phases of this development of a moral ideal is the application of the principle of Christianity to the great world of industry about us. There is no question but that we have a larger outlook in this field than ever before."

"But the world has become complicated. There is no simplicity. Everything is interwoven, enmeshed. No man liveth to himself and no men dieth to himself" in any sense whatever. Once upon a time we did not care how a man made his money just so he distributed it properly. Now we are not so anxious about the distribution of his money as how he made it. I have great hopes for the future. The moral standard is lifting gradually. The line marked upon the side of the great and eternal standard set by Christ Himself is gradually mounting. Some day—but not now—we may reach the tip of the standard."

FORMER STATE FIRE MARSHAL RUNGE IS DEAD

A. H. Runge, 70, former state fire marshal of North Dakota and well known in Bismarck, died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Dwight Hart, in Los Angeles, Calif., last Saturday, according to information received here. No announcement of funeral plans was contained in the information.

Mr. Runge was appointed chief of the Grand Forks fire department in 1904, serving until 1913, when he was appointed state fire marshal by former Governor Hanna, serving until 1919. Before going to Grand Forks he was connected with the Minneapolis fire department for many years, serving as chief from 1891 to 1895, and again from 1899 to 1902. He began his services at Minneapolis with the volunteer department in 1874, and ten years later joined the regular organized department.

Besides the daughter, Mrs. Dwight Hart, of Los Angeles, whose death occurred, he leaves another daughter, Mrs. A. W. Doerr of Northampton, Mass.

The Los Angeles Examiner, telling of the death of Mr. Runge, gave the information that five hours after the death of Mr. Runge a baby was born to his daughter, Mrs. Dwight Hart, wife of Dwight Hart, of Hart Brothers, capitalists.

MEXICO TO CELEBRATE ITS ANNIVERSARY

Today Marks 100th Year of Separation From Spanish Rule—Huge Parade Planned

Mexico City, Sept. 16.—Today will be probably the biggest day in Mexico's celebration of the 100th anniversary of its independence from the rule of Spain. September 16 is Mexico's most important national holiday. A huge parade of military and civic bodies will be reviewed by President Obregon from the balcony of the national palace. There will be a diplomatic reception and 70,000 children who have been trained in different parts of Mexico City for several weeks will sing en masse a national hymn composed especially for the occasion.

Throughout the republic, especially in Mexico City, numerous projects commemorating national independence have been planned to continue until the middle of October.

President Obregon has announced that the celebration is to be more for the great masses of peasant population than for society folks. Free entertainment, partaking of carnival and fiesta is to be provided; the usual quotas of band concerts will be increased; theaters and motion picture houses have been requested to reduce their prices to a minimum and everywhere it is the intention of federal authorities to make September and October months of happiness wherein the dark days of past revolutions will be forgotten.

Handicapped by lack of recognition by the great powers of the world, the numerous public spectacles planned for the national capital will not be the occasion for splendid diplomatic parades.

General Antonio Villareal, Secretary of Agriculture, has announced that one day will be given over to an excursion to the pyramids and excavations at San Juan de Teotihuacan when President Obregon and all the Centennial guests of the nation will be shown over the ruins. The usual number of banquets, receptions and balls to fill in any chance vacant hours has been provided.

In order to add to the happiness which he hopes will be nation wide during the month, President Obregon has used his influence to secure the release of all prisoners who have served material portions of their sentences. He has also directed that amnesty shall be granted political prisoners, including those in exile from former revolutions.

The various foreign colonies in Mexico City are cooperating to make the celebration a success and have presented to the government substantial gifts as evidence of their good will. Monuments or tablets have been the most popular presents but the American colony took a more practical view and has provided four public playgrounds for Mexico City children.

An industrial exposition is to be held in conjunction with the Centennial although not under government sponsorship. The legislative palace, begun by Porfirio Diaz but never completed, has been utilized for the exhibits.

Powers Are Playing Great Grab Game in Constantinople

ALLIES CONTROL CITY

Admiral Briston, However, Safeguards Interests of United States

BY MILTON BRONNER.

Constantinople Sept. 17.—One of the great political commercial and economic grab games of the world is being played in this city by the various European powers.

The nation which is trusted by the Turks is the United States and the one man who is trusted upon the open door with equal rights for all and special privileges for none is Rear Admiral Mark I. Bristol, American high commissioner here also in command of the United States naval forces in the Near East.

Under the treaty of peace with Turkey, the allied powers are in charge of Constantinople until its fate is finally decided. This means that the representatives of Britain, France and Italy virtually rule the city.

The allies have about 10,000 troops here to say nothing of considerable naval forces in the waters around the city.

To come into Constantinople you have to have a visa on your passport from one of these three nations. You have to report to them upon your arrival and you have to have their visa in order to leave.

But that is only a small matter. The big matter is that they are trying to seizer worked out and proclaimed the very policy that President Harding's administration has enunciated. First, it said we were not at war with Turkey and that the other allied powers had acquired neither before nor since the armistice any special privileges with the United States would recognize those privileges sought to interfere with the previous rights and opportunities of our business men.

He would agree to nothing and sanction nothing which sought to confer special rights upon Britons, Frenchmen and Italians but always has made a strong reservation on behalf of our country.

Not only are the Turks grateful for his attitude but they remember that before the war Americans were chiefly interested here in educational and philanthropic work. American dollars are still being poured in here for those purposes.

New York Sept. 17.—Although entering his 72nd year with enough money to retire and take up golf, Frank D. Johnson of Brooklyn continues to erect houses all by himself and sell them.

For the last 50 years he has worked 10 to 12 hours a day at this pursuit and now is putting up a one man house on Gravesend avenue. No hands but his own have touched it since he started it.

Last July while he was working on the house it was struck by lightning. Dismaying him to the point of despair, he rubbed some ammonia on his bruises and was back on the job the next day.

Born in Boston of Revolutionary War stock, Johnson expects to live to 100. He has 10 teeth and is in final teeth and scarcely a hair is left on his head.

"I could have knocked off and taken it easy but if I had done so I would now be reposing in some grave yard was the way Johnson put it.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THE GRAND FORKS HERALD'S QUERY

"Why not earlier?" is the question which The Grand Forks Herald asks The Tribune. The Tribune is replying by reprinting the Herald's query and publishing a letter to the editor of that newspaper. The editorial in question follows:

"Many North Dakotans will be puzzled as to why the Bismarck Tribune's opposition to the Independent campaign has remained in a comparatively unformed and indefinite condition until within the past two weeks. The Tribune asserts that it has never been in favor of the recall and has never been in favor of the program of state owned enterprises advocated by the Nonpartisan League management, or of the Independent program which it considers almost equally bad; but it has taken the Tribune a long time to get its position into definite form and to inform the people in any systematic way concerning it. The attitude now announced by the Tribune is that of entire opposition to the recall, denunciation of the Independent program which it holds to be as socialistic as that of the League, the reorganization of the Republican party for the next primary campaign and the retirement of the state from every branch of publicly owned enterprise. If that attitude had been announced some months ago, the announcement would have been considered at least timely, but the Tribune has been content to let matters drift until quite recently when it came out with a full-fledged program along the lines indicated.

"It is interesting to note that until very recently the administration forces, through League officers and other ways, have been putting forth every possible effort, not to win the recall election, but to prevent such an election's being held. Without the slightest foundation for such statements, they have caused reports to be circulated in various sections of the state that the Independents had abandoned the recall. Incipient booms for possible third candidates for governor have been started here and there, and as fast as one was denied and denounced, another would spring up. Recently it has become so certain, that even the League leaders could not hope to create the opposite impression, that the recall election was to be held and that no third candidate who could by any possibility be considered anything but an administration stool pigeon would appear in the field, that other methods are necessary if the defeat of the League machine is to be prevented. The Bismarck Tribune naturally defies all connection with the League or co-operation with it. But it is significant at least that the Tribune's appeal to the stand-pat sentiment of the state to prevent the defeat of the administration in the recall election and to let things remain as they are until another year, has not taken real form until the present time. The Tribune doubtless has an explanation, and that explanation if offered will be read with interest."

The letter in reply to the Herald's query is as follows:

Bismarck, Sept. 16, 1921.

Editor Grand Forks Herald,
Grand Forks, N. D.

Dear Sir:—

You conclude your editorial of recent date entitled: "Why Not Earlier?" as follows:

"The Tribune doubtless has an explanation, and that explanation if offered will be read with interest."

In view of this magnanimous attitude, the publisher and editor of The Bismarck Tribune is writing you in hopes that he may convince you and your readers, if you see fit to publish this letter, that the attitude of The Tribune is not an eleventh hour conviction or arrived at because of the pressure of political expediency.

In February of this year before the recall had been considered a possibility The Tribune issued a pamphlet of reprints from editorials appearing in its columns.

On the title page it printed these planks to which it has since adhered to stoutly and intends to uphold unreservedly during the campaign:

"There must be No Compromise With State Socialism.

"Getting back to solid ground means abolition of the So-Called Industrial Program in North Dakota."

"No More Nauseating Compromises."

The I. V. A. program is violently opposed to this uncompromising attitude and that is the reason The Tribune can not honestly support the recall aside from its opposition to the recall as a political plank. The Tribune opposes the use of such a political slap stick and believes that the Jane primaries only a few months distant afford a battle ground to fight out the issues without recourse to the recall.

In examining this pamphlet you will find on page 6 the following extract from an editorial written Feb. 12:

"The Tribune has always and is now opposed to the entire industrial program. It does not believe that it is a proper function of state government to engage in any business enterprise because such a program almost without exception is a waste of public funds.

"When the Independents (The I. V. A.) proposed a compromise and accepted the present industrial program with certain limitations, The Tribune opposed such a compromise and has never seen any good reason to change its attitude."

This was written as we have said early in February and completely answers your editorial.

On Feb. 12, The Tribune said editorially: "Compromise on fundamentals is wrong and never got an individual or a state very far.

"If the time has not arrived to carry this issue to the people on a platform untainted by socialistic expedients—it is just as well to nurse the patient along until there are enough fearless leaders to fight the issues out on clean cut lines.

"But further compromise never."

You will find in the pamphlet many quotations along the same line showing that The Tribune took a clear definite stand before the recall issue was raised. Every county practically west of the James river meeting in county conventions previous to the Devils Lake convention was either lukewarm or hostile to the recall. Had the I. V. A. managers heeded sentiment as expressed there, the recall would have been promptly shelved.

Following Burleigh county's convention of Independents which opposed the recall, The Tribune denounced such a political coup d'état with all the vigor it possessed.

We trust that we have completely answered your charges that The Tribune was a long time in getting its position into definite form. Probably press of other matters has made you forgetful of these many evidences that The Tribune stand was formulated months prior to any recall convention.

Will you do The Tribune the kindness in view of the challenge you have made to place this letter before your readers so that they might read as you say "with interest" any explanation The Tribune may wish to make to your editorial of September 15 entitled "Why Not Earlier?"

A COMMUNITY CHORUS

If there is any project the citizens should back to the limit, it is the inculcation of a taste and a popular demand for good music. The Business and Professional Women's club are sponsoring a movement for a community chorus. Its aim has been well stated by a musical authority of high rank: "To make good music popular and to make popular music."

Choral singing has suffered a slump in recent years. War intervened to break up organized endeavor, although real community singing came into its own under the impetus of patriotic fervor during the world war.

But with the signing of the armistice and during the period of readjustment that followed these mass efforts to popularize music and to get people to sing for the joy and the culture it affords have been sadly neglected.

The effort to stimulate community singing by the organization of a community chorus is a most worthy one. There is nothing more inspiring than a great oratorio or a cantata well given.

Aside from the personal or individual benefit which comes from the training and associations formed at the rehearsals, there is greater and more lasting benefit to the community itself. Such a chorus can assist in civic programs. It can do much in cooperation with the organized musical clubs of the city to promote community effort along musical lines.

LIKE TURNING ELECTRIC LIGHT ON

What is this "life force" that makes you conscious—enables you to move your body? And what is death?

Hereward Carrington, in a new book, offers the theory that life is a force, existing outside the body, which "manifests through the body." He believes death is not an ending of life, but a physical condition in which the mysterious life current is shut off.

Like an electric light The body is the glass bulb. Nerves and muscles are the tungsten filaments. Turn on the current. You have life. Turn it off. That's death. Destroy the filaments and the lamp is dead—no light. But the current is eternal.

Science calls this a new theory. But the church has been teaching it for ages. What religion calls "soul," science now calls "current." That's all. It's nothing new.

AT BISMARCK

As "Square" Kelly in "The Cradle of Courage," his newest Paramount Picture, which will be seen at the Bismarck theater next Monday, Mr. Hart depicts a man whose belief is that all cops are made to be deceived and that the law was made to be broken.

He bears the proud distinction of being the best safe-cracker on the "coast." Through stress of circumstances he is reformed and goes out of the maelstrom as "Square" Kelly, now square in the actual sense of the word. In fact, he becomes one of the most hated fraternity, the police.

How he proves himself a man, despite his early training and past life, and wins the love of a girl who had the same environment and yet has gone through unscathed, forms a story that is extremely powerful as well as appealing.

Lambert Hillier adapted the story and also directed it. Ann Little is leading woman, and heads a strong supporting cast which includes such players as Thomas Santschi, Gertrude Claire, Francis Thorwald and George Williams.

SECLUSION OF HAREM PRAISED BY NOVELIST

Angora, Sept. 17.—"The seclusion of the harem is best adapted to woman's nature and it is best for the social order that she should be there," declared Mufide Ferid Hanem, the Nationalist novelist and beautiful wife of Ahmed Ferid Bey, ex-minister of Finance, to the correspondent in an interview. "The harem grew out of the intelligent understanding of the marriage relation. It represents the wisdom of the East.

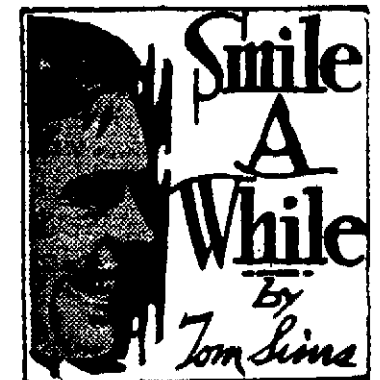

"I am a reformed woman's rights advocate," she continued. "I used to yearn for the independence of the American and European woman, but now I believe the mistress of the harem is a superior product to the spend thrift Russian woman, the sentimental Austrian, the nagging English woman and the calculating, self-centered American woman.

"To these women, women's rights means the right to spend money on foolish finery, to marry late, and be childless. They live for the store and the theater. They are responsible for a good deal of factory labor expended in useless directions. They won't work with their hands to make their clothes, their minds are filled with fashions, novels, and candies.

"Men have become their slaves, and you call this western civilization. We Turkish women have had our heads turned by the effort to become like these civilized women, and in doing so some of us have lost our sterling old-fashioned qualities and become a costly, vain, destructive creature like our sisters of the West.

"We nationalists are in favor of abolishing the theory of polygamy, though in fact it has long since ceased as an institution. But we are sure woman's place is the home, and the best way to keep her there is the harem, which gives her much liberty but not license. We are good housewives, we wear more or less a uniform gown and veil, in the streets, which prevents us being victims to fashion, and at home, if we do not wish to see our husbands we are not obliged to do so. Surely that is liberty enough."

COBB CLIMBING UP ON MATE IN BATTING RACE

Rises to Just Four Points Behind the Leading Heilman of Detroit Club

FOURNIER AFTER HORNSBY

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Ty Cobb, was the only member of the quartette which last week went into the stretch fighting for the batting honors of the American League, who made a gain during the week. The Georgia peach added four points to his average, giving him a mark of .394 for the runner up honors. Harry Heilman, Detroit's slugging outfielder, struck a slump in his hitting and dropped to .393, just four points in front of his boss. Babe Ruth, of the Yankees, the third member of the slugging quartette travelled along on about a .360 basis, dropping one point. He is third with .362. George Sisler, of St. Louis who a week ago was crowding on the heels of the leaders, did not do so well with the willow and has dropped to .354, a loss of seven points.

According to averages released today, which include games of Wednesday, Ruth failed to break his home run record of 51 circuit drives established in 1920, and, equaled again last week. However, the big southpaw has increased his lead as a run-getter having registered 162 times, his total base mark being 414 bases, the result of 186 hits. Besides the circuit drives Ruth has batted out 40 doubles and 13 triples.

The averages are for players who have participated in 80 or more games are as follows for some other leading batters:

Speaker, Cleveland, .366; Tobin, St. Louis, .365; Jacobson, St. Louis, .346; E. Collins, Chicago, .343; Strunk, Chicago, .342; Cech, Detroit, .341; Williams, St. Louis, .338.

Fournier Climbs

Jack Fournier, first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals enjoyed a good week with the bat in the National League and has climbed up behind his teammate, Rogers Hornsby for the batting honors of the senior major circuit. The big Frenchman is hitting .352, while Hornsby dropped five points, but continued to top the batters who have participated in 80 or more games with a mark of .401, according to the averages released today and which include games of last Wednesday.

Hornsby increased his lead as a run-getter, having scored 122 runs for his club. With his 220 hits he also brought his record for total bases to 350. His hits include 35 doubles, 16 triples and 20 home runs.

As a home run hitter, the St. Louis star is giving great promise of overtaking George Kelly, of the Giants, who is out in front with 22 circuit crashes. Kelly failed to add to his mark a week ago. Frisett, of the Giants, failed to run his stolen base record above the 47 reached a week ago.

Other leading batters for 80 or more games:

Cutshaw, Pittsburgh, .359; Roush, Cincinnati, .348; McHenry, St. Louis, .345; Cruise, Boston, .341; Meusel, New York, .335; E. Smith, New York, .333; Frisch, New York, .332; Mann, St. Louis, .331.

Thorpe Makes Strides

Jim Thorpe whose athletic prowess in the Olympic games at Stockholm in 1912, startled the universe has made wonderful strides among the batters of the American Association players who have participated in 80 or more games. The big Indian who is a member of the Toledo club has climbed to fifth place with an average of .363. Jap Kikke, the Louisville slugger, although suffering a slight falling off in his stick work, continued to top the batters with an average of .351, while Reb Russell the Minneapolis slugging outfielder has passed Art Butler of Kansas City for the honors as runner-up to Kikke. Russell is clotting .375, Butler's mark is .369.

Bunny Brief of Kansas City, who smashed out five circuit drives in the past week, and brought this season's record for circuit wallops to 40, is in fourth place among the batters with a mark of .354.

MERRY COMBACK TO STORIES OF THE LIVELY BALL

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Since Falls S. D. Sept. 17.—When the newer generation starts talking of the "lively ball" the old-timers laugh. "Big Ball" Dahlquist talks about a game played in 1893 between Webster and Bryant. At the end of the fifth inning the score was 57 to 7 in favor of Webster.

The game was called by the fifth, for Webster scored 22 runs in that inning, and none were out. The other team just quit.

Then comes M. J. Mahoney, of Alexandria.

He tells of a game in 1897, when Parker defeated Huron 68 to 19. The game was called in the seventh when the players refused to play any longer. The players of those days assert that the lively ball stuff is really a "come back."

FEW GRIDIRON CHANGES EXPECTED THIS YEAR; VETERANS OF HARD-FOUGHT CAMPAIGNS TO LEAD THE BEST TEAMS

(By Roy Grove)

All over the country coaches are working feverishly to groom their entries for Sept. 24, the day on which the barrier goes up on the intercollegiate football race.

A glance over the field indicates that although racing conditions will be about the same as last season, the entries as a whole will be much faster.

Only a few minor changes have been made in the rules, and most colleges are recognizing the coaches and staffs of last year.

Renovations in team material are comparatively few, and with the bulk of playing material of last year back as seasoned veterans, the game should be speedier.

The style of play will be largely the same as that of last season: a liberal amount of open running, supported by tricks and accurate passing.

Forward passing seems to be necessary in rounding out a well balanced and effective offense, and most effective when so designed that passes and running plays are made to look alike. This requires the defensive to hesitate to determine whether the play is a running play or a pass.

Forward passing is probably the department Ohio State will miss most, although Coach Wilce says he has Johnny Stuart, last year's fullback captain of the Freshies.

Stuart is said to have the feet that will fill the shoes of Harley and Stinchcomb, the All-American boys.

State's line, which upset the Big Ten, sat down to Stuart.

At the rush of the season, the kickers receive most of the attention and if a coach can develop a punter or place kicker then the team is well on its way.

Yost's Anchor-Man

(Michigan is depending much on this; in building a machine around run records. He has pined up a total of 33 circuit smashes.

Out in the Coast League, too, they're smashing them as well as in Home Run Headquarters at the Polo grounds, and at all way stations in between big enough to support a ball club.

Maybe it's the lucky ball. More likely it's because they are envious of Babe Ruth's limelight.

Fifty-two American Leaguers batted over .300. Couple Philadelphians, too. But keep that dark.

NEW ENTRY TO HALL OF FAME:

Pitcher Rommel of Athletics, first pitcher in Johnson League to lose 20 games.

HOT DOG!

The dog stood on the burning deck. The flames were flapping 'round his neck.

HOT DOG!

And yet you can't say that Johnny Wilson was completely walloped. Maybe he didn't beat Downey, but he beat the public.

This Mr. John Dempsey must be figuring on a wild swing. He said he'd referee the Kilbane-Frushi argument for $2,500.

LEFT EAREFUL.

When on the greens, the golfing guy was surely in a rut. Because, just like an auto, He would always putt, putt, putt.

RIGHT EAREFUL.

When battling for a bonus, he could hit to beat the band. 'Cause every time he crossed the plate Some money crossed his hand.

BOASTS ABOUT GOLF COURSE

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Gann Valley S. D. Sept. 17. Golf bugs must have their game, no matter what the inconvenience.

This village, with a total population of less than 100 persons, boasts a municipal regulation golf course. It claims to be the smallest agricultural town in the country with a course.

The golf epidemic has spread to nearly every family, and the call of

STEKETTE

Steketie, last year's All-American fullback, a wonderful open field runner, sprinter and place kicker.

Another of last year's All-American team is back in Stanley Keck of Princeton.

Stanley should do a repeat in the All-American for he has been tackling, interfering, bucking the line and kicking goals in practice all these summer months.

As for Yale and Harvard, all is not so rosy.

Harvard has a wealth of back field material, but as to the line the outlook is rather dismal. All the heavy forward beef stepped out with diplomas.

The Crimson has a ray of hope in McCagg, captain of the crew, with his six feet four inches, the same which should be credited to Captain Keith Kane of this year's varsity.

Kane did McCagg a good turn last spring when he joined the crew, rowing an oar against Yale. Now a return call is expected on the grid field from McCagg.

Ell's Best Bet

At the Yale bowl, the front strings play should revolve around Captain Malcolm Aldrich, left half, and O'Hern, the brilliant freshman quarter of last year who is expected to be the bright star of Old Eli in the coming scrimmages.

Minnesota, Penn., Notre Dame, Ohio State, Illinois and Michigan are expected to be about evenly balanced as to weight and speed. The Wisconsin team is being shaped about Bunge, an old-timer.

California lost few stars through graduation and is expected to show a lot. Brickmiller at end can play any position.

George Tech, on paper, looks like the strongest team in the country, having much of the same material that last year throttled Penn and walloped Center decidedly.

"Lore" breaks the peaceful evening air

as regularly as the day's work is done.

To make it more remarkable, Gann Valley is an inland town, the county seat of Buffalo county.

It is 24 miles from the nearest railroad, and depends entirely for its supply of golf balls from the store one, which carries supplies from the outside.

GIANTS TAKE FIRST GAME IN PIRATE SERIES

Toney Holds Smoky City Batters to Two Hits in Opening "Crucial Series"

Pittsburgh, Sept. 17.—Toney held the Pirates to two hits yesterday and New York defeated Pittsburgh, 3 to 0.

The Giants scored all of their five runs in the third inning on three singles, two doubles and a triple. Hamilton was taken out of the box in the third, being replaced by Glazner, who later gave way to Yellowhorse.

In the third inning, Rawlings led off with a single through third. Snyder, the next batter up, doubled to left, and Toney followed with a single to left, scoring Rawlings and Snyder. After Burns had filed out, Bancroft tripped to center, scoring Toney. Frisch scored Bancroft with a double to right and Hamilton gave way to Glazner. Young, filed to Carey. Kelly singled to left scoring Frisch. Meusel, the ninth man up, filed to Carey.

In the eighth inning, Umpire McCormick, in the field, called Grimm out at second. He ruled that the runner interfered with Rawlings, the Giant second baseman, who was fielding a ball. The decision was greeted by a shower of pop bottles from the stands. One bottle struck McCormick on the head, but he was not seriously hurt. At the close of the game he was escorted from the field by 25 policemen. Score: R. H. E. New York .005 000 000—5 12 0 Pittsburgh .000 000 000—0 3 0 Batteries—Toney and Snyder; Hamilton, Glazner, Yellowhorse and Schmidt.

New York, Sept. 16.—The New York American sluggers could do little with Urban Shocker, a former teammate, and were defeated by St. Louis yesterday in the third game of the series by 10 to 3. Shawkey was battered hard by the Browns, who drove him into retirement in six innings. In the ninth, Sisler hit a home run with the bases full off Pitcher Rogers. Ruth hit his fifty-sixth home run off Shocker in the fourth inning, but Shocker struck him out in his other three times at bat. Gerber was knocked unconscious in the sixth inding when he collided with McMann's while going after Packingspau's fly. Score: R. H. E. St. Louis .000 402 004—10 14 0 New York .000 102 000—3 7 3 Batteries—Shocker and Severid; Shawkey, Quinn, Rogers and Schang.

MANY ASK "HOW SHE DID IT"

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 16.—Miss Katherine F. Worley presides over Nebraska's state board of control in a small swivel chair sufficient to accommodate two of her size, but she is big enough to direct the expenditure of more than $5,000,000 biennially. Her job is to look after the financial affairs of Nebraska's 18 penal, charitable and corrective institutions. She has the final decision on the appointment of every official in these establishments, and also bears the ultimate responsibility for their economical and practical operation and efficiency.

Many are the inquiries from other women asking how she "did it" that this state board chairman receives. Here is some of the advice she sends back:

"Meet your fellow-man on an equal footing."

"Study him, aid him, reach his nature, and mend your treatment to his ailments."

"Maintain an average business head which every-day experience gives you."

"Practice the same judgment in wielding the affairs of your neighbor as you would your own—whether they be large ones or small ones, rich ones or poor ones."

"Instinct, environment, common sense and an ordinary education, together with an aim toward the right principles, will put you to your goal."

The directing head of Nebraska's institutions came to her office through a practical business experience and long welfare work and by a state system of rotation. She heads Nebraska's Americanization work today.

She founded, developed and continues to operate by proxy a news clipping bureau in her home state. She says she is going back to it and her circle of welfare workers when she gets through at the capital.

For years she has been active in welfare and juvenile work in Omaha. She has taken an active part in starting a dozen evening schools for the foreign born and has done much volunteer court work.

The day is never so dark, nor the night even, but that the laws at least of light still prevail, and so may make it light in our minds if they are open to the truth.—Thoreau.

Irish Peace in Sight

Something like jubilation is reported from both London and Dublin at the turn the Irish negotiations are taking toward a peaceful settlement. They have "turned the corner," affirms the New York Herald's London correspondent, and the Dublin Freeman's Journal, the chief organ of Sinn Fein, hails the latest British note as falsifying the forecasts of the pessimists. "World opinion," as the Brooklyn Eagle sizes up the situation, now "prevents the Irish leaders from closing the door." In fact, however contrary may seem the claims of Lloyd George and De Valera, many observers see promise of an ultimate agreement in the fact that, as the San Francisco Chronicle puts it, "both have taken the most pains to leave the door open." Thus when De Valera, on September 4, reiterated his "irrevocable" rejection of Great Britain's terms for an Irish settlement, he concluded with an offer to reopen negotiations on the basis of "the principle of government by consent of the governed," and the British Premier promptly named next Tuesday as the date for another conference. Lloyd George is quoted as saying that he hopes to sign the Irish agreement with the same pen with which he signed the Peace Treaty.

An instructive account of recent negotiations leading up to the present encouraging status of the ages-old Irish question is given in the leading article in this week's LITERARY DIGEST. It presents views from all angles.
